Aerial Attack On Black Rust To Be Launched This Summer By The Dominion Government

An aerial attack on black rust, one of the most serious enemies of Canadian grain-growing, will be launched this summer in an experiment by the Dominion Government.

Two aviators, who were sent down to the cotton fields of the Middle West, and there for a week studied the methods recently adopted for fighting the boll-weevil, with it, said, remarkable success, will give instruction for carrying on a similar campaign when the time arrives this summer, one in Eastern and one in Western Canada.

Wing Commander Anderson of Camp Borden said the aviators chosen were from that aviation body that the aerophages would be taken from the camp and returned there when the summer was over. The campaign, however, is being directed from Ottawa.

"In order to be effective," Wing Commander Anderson said, "the flying has to be done as close above the growing crops as is safe. The dust is contained in a special apparatus on the aeroplane, and considerable practice is necessary to operate it efficiently. Wind conditions have to be taken into account, and the dusting is done while flying in a certain direction, relative to the direction of the wind."

So serious has the losses from black rust in the cereal crops of Western Canada become that in September, 1924, a conference was called at Winnipeg by the department of agriculture and the Research Council of Canada. As a result of this, a series of experimental projects, covering all phases of the subject, were mapped out to be carried on in Western Canada. The present aeroplane attack is a continuation of these experiments.

Viscount Byng Gives Address on Status of the Dominion

"Canada is in the midst of her evolution and she has no desire for our interference to tell her what she ought to do," Viscount Byng, former Governor-General of Canada, emphasized in an address in London on "The Canadian at Home."

"She knows that the land of her birth is ready to help her if she asks help," he added.

Viscount Byng thought they must take the word "Canadian" seriously, quietly to Canada and not try to thrust it down the people's throats. "Imagine," he said, "asking a British 120 miles from a railway station to withdraw over a strategic naval base at Singapore."

The speaker was not perturbed over talk of annexation and the proximity of Canada to the United States. "Seeing that the frontier is not guarded and is easily crossed you cannot expect the people on each side not to be a bit easy-going about each other," he said. "Personally, I think it rather a good thing."

Sugar Beets

Proper Cultural Methods Will Be Adopted in the Raymond District

Beet seedling begun in the Raymond district the middle of April. W. Evans, of the agricultural staff of the Canadian Sugar Company, was the first to begin drilling in this district. As field supervisor he is urging beet growers to adopt cultural methods in order to conserve moisture, so that a good foundation of seed might be secured. A good stand of beets, he said, is a vital factor and the first essential towards heavy tonnage at harvest time.

Winnipeg Stock Yards

Better Prices Bring Greater Returns

Although Volume is Higher

Last year 422,130 head of cattle and 292,229 hogs were marketed through the Winnipeg Public Stock Yards, and realized $25,017,000. Though the number of animals marketed was less than the 1923 record, the monetary return was $1,000,000 greater, owing to the better prices that prevailed. Ontario feeders took 45,586 and 41,900 went to the United States feed lots, and 17,462 to Manitoba farms. Sheep and lambs to the number of 55,559 were marketed, compared with 36,469 in 1923.

To Stamp Out Disease

Continuation of Educational Campaign Will Be Necessary

A survey of health conditions during February across the whole continent, including Canada, has just been completed by the Metropolitan Life statisticians. The excellent health conditions which prevailed during January, continued.

Compared with February, 1924, there are pronounced declines in death rates from measles, whooping cough, influenza, heart disease and pneumonia. Rates for typhoid, scarlet fever, diphtheria, diabetes, respiratory diseases other than pneumonia, quinsies and accidents were more or less higher.

So far, this year, there has been no alarming increase in the death rate from any disease but the small increase in diphtheria mortality constitutes a challenge to health workers. Since 1922, due to intensified campaigns for immunizing children and educational work, the disease has been registering a low low point each year. The death rate dropped 60 per cent between 1921 and 1924 and this success was perhaps the greatest single sanitary accomplishment of last year.

There has not yet been time to determine, definitely, what is the exact cause of this increase, but preliminary research seems to indicate that the type of disease has been that of above-average virulent.

At any rate, the situation calls for increased watchfulness, a continuance of educational campaigns and an intensified effort to stamp out the disease.

Room for Many More Improvements Along That Line

In the old-fashioned kitchen our mother walked many weary miles to the house stands, which she used so long as the house stands. But there is room for many more of these improvements and ample rewards awaiting those who can think. Time is worth more than it used to be. There are so many more things to do with it if it is saved. When our systems of education are broadened to meet the full requirements of modern life, doubtless they will give place to training in the single most important art of time-saving.

It is better to be shamed by some men than to be pruned by others.

The Canadian Rugby Championship is held by Ottawa, Football Club.

Championship prizes for figure skating, speed skating, ice hockey, curling, wrestling, swimming, rowing, paddling and other sports are at present held in Ottawa. For the past few generations the Dominion Capital has been famous as a centre for all kinds of sports. Many of the star athletes in other parts, particularly on professional hockey teams in the United States, are natives of Ottawa. The Canadian Capital and its environs have every conceivable facility and equipment for indulging in every kind of sport and recreation, so that the young people grow up with the consciousness and traditions right at their elbow, as it were.

Opportunities no Better Any Place Says South African Farm Manager

"East-westness" is an old saying and a commonly quoted proverb. In the case of South Africa, it is true. In the South African, E. Crohn, who went from British Columbia to East Griqualand, South Africa, says in a description of dairy farming conditions there that "there are no better opportunities in dairy farming here than in Canada."

Crohn was a cow taster in the Fraser Valley; part owner of a farm in B.C.; left Canada and spent some time in the United States, getting first hand information about Jersey and Guernsey; is now farm manager and cheese maker on the East Griqualand dairy farm, owned by R. A. Young, at Vanstadend. Natives do all the milking, etc., and no labor is required. The average woman cooks at 25¢ per month and a boy to help her at $1 per month. Oats do practically all the farm work, horses being used only for riding.

Safer to Declare Car

Advice Given to Canadian Settlers Returning From Overseas

While re-visiting Canadians are welcomed back into Canada and every consideration shown them, the customs officials, if they bring back an automobile, the only way to keep it here is to declare it at the port of entry.

R. W. Hearn, commissioner of customs, points out that it is impossible to lay down a general principle, and each case can only be dealt with on its merits. The result is that only honest, real and settlers' effects are admitted without payment of duty, and they had to report their cars and get a permit. The permit may be extended on further application. This regulation only applies to bona fide tourists, however, or bona fide settlers.

"In the case of a man returning to Canada and intending to settle here, he could bring his car," he said. "If he had been living in the United States and had a car, and then came back to Canada and intended to settle here, his car might come in as an settler's effects. If its value was less than $1,000."

"The $1,000 limit, however, does not apply to a farmer coming in with his effects. If his car is really one of his effects and is for his own use, he can bring it in even if it is over that value."

Kansas City Woman Is Customs Expert

Well Known to Officials All Over the World

A Kansas City woman, known in home and foreign parts as A. D. Jones, customs broker, has opened a new and interesting profession for women handling out her business almost twenty years ago before a Kansas City business office. Mrs. Jones has become one of the best-known customs experts in the world.

During the war vast shipments of raw materials and supplies were handled by Mrs. Jones at her desk in the inland port of Kansas City. While train after train passed through the Kansas City yards laden with goods from South America, Australia and the Orient bound for Canada and Arkansas exporters, Mrs. Jones computed for the government the duty on them and as a result properly involved and on their way.

Mrs. Jones had made an extensive study of customs law and treasury decisions before entering her profession. She has a keen legal mind that enjoys a taste with the regulation of the rapidly changing tariff laws, and has now expanded her services to such worldwide proportions that she is known to customs officials in every civilized country in the world.
